主たる研究テーマ Principal Research Subject	Myanmar morphology
Since my main interest lies in the morphology of the Myanmar language, I conducted research in the following topics in terms of linguistics: <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>(1) Affixation in the Myanmar language</li><li>(2) Compounding in the Myanmar language</li><li>(3) Cliticization in the Myanmar language</li></ol> Discriminating affixation, compounding and cliticization is sometimes fairly difficult in the study of the Myanmar language. I looked into literatures on Japanese, which is a language that has a lot of common characters with Myanmar, and consulted them in my research. However, dividing noun phrases and compound nouns seems more difficult in Myanmar study than in Japanese.
