主たる研究テーマ Principal Research Subject	Middle Persian Historical Phonology
The historical phonology of Middle Persian has not yet been fully studied. My research project is the first serious attempt to describe this complicated field in Iranian linguistics. I have taken into consideration all the varieties of Middle Persian, i.e. Inscriptional, Zoroastrian, Manichaean and Christian. I have so far re-read some of the extant Middle Persian texts, including inscriptions (of both the pre-Islamic and Islamic period), different types of writings on a large number of objects (e.g. clay, plaster, metal, wood, papyrus, parchment, linen, ...), and a large number of religious manuscripts of the Zoroastrian, Manichaean and Christian communities of Iran and Central Asia. What follows is a list of some of the secondary sources I have so far consulted: Asha, R. (1998), The Persic ("Pahlavi"), A Grammatical Précis, Vincennes. Durkin-Meisterernst, D. (2014), Grammatik des Westmittliranischen (Parthisch und Mittelpersisch), Wien. Gignoux, Ph. (1972), Glossaire des inscriptions pehlevies et parthes (= Corpus Inscriptionum Iranicarum, Supplementary Series, vol. I), London. MacKenzie, D. N. (1967), 'Notes on the Transcription of Pahlavi', Bulletin of the School of Oriental and African Studies, vol. 30, no. 1, pp. 17-29. MacKenzie, D. N. (1971; 2nd ed.: 1986), A Concise Pahlavi Dictionary, London. Oryān, S. (1382 AHS/2003), Zabur-e Pahlavi [Pahlavi Psalter], Tehran. Расторгуева, В. С. (1990), Сравнительно-историческая грамматика западноиранских языков: Фонология, Москва. Sadeghi, A. A. (1394 AHS/2015), 'Sāmet-e /θ/ dar Zabān-e Fārsi va Pahlavi [The /θ/ Phoneme in Middle and Modern Persian]', Farhang-Nevisi, vol. 9, pp. 3-44. Skjærvø, P. O.
