In FY2016, there are three main areas of research in which I plan to be involved. Firstly, I aim to publish my recently submitted doctoral thesis, which compared patterns of semantic extension between Japanese compound verbs and English phrasal verbs, either in part or in its entirety. Secondly, I aim to collaborate with a colleague by contributing one chapter to an anthology of his work on the Comparative Correlative construction. Thirdly, I will continue to work with my colleagues on a joint research project funded through Kakenhi and led by Dr. Raimond Selke, which examines the career success of foreign language graduates in Japan.
